Thursday, February 3.

"Bud Hicks," nicknamed "The Yankee Doodle Boy" is the central figure.

He is slangy but you love him from the moment he makes his first appearance, he is so typically American. Bud's "long suit" is making love and tries the effect of his "fatal beauty," as he expresses it, on every pretty girl ne meets. Finally, however, he encounters his affinity in the torm of Miss Truly Spencer, of Downer's Grove, Illinois, and its "all off" with Bud—the biter is bitten. He falls desperately in love, but Truly is a tease and keeps him guessing

Given special advantages, such as that of holding the end of a stout rope at the other extremity of which is a hook fixed in a shark's mouth, man may, with the assistance of a number of his fellows, have the best of the shark. But alone and in the water the advantage is wholly and absolutely the other way, and the strongest swimmer and the bravest heart fall when the tyrant of the sea seeks to make his acquaintance. The shark is gifted with great strength, a savage temper, dogged perseverance and exceptional power of jaw. The lion and tiger may mangle, the crocodile may lacerate, the bulldog may hold fast—the shark alone of living creatures possesses the power of nipping off a human limb at a bite.

The jury as it is found today is a relic of the ancient popular justice. In the city states of antiquity the entire male population passed upon the guilt or innocence of the offending party. The oldest Greek poet has left us a picture of what the primitive jury was. The court is sitting; the question of "Guilty" or "Not guilty" is put, and the old men of the community in turn give their opinion, the rank and file of the people standing about applauding the opinion that strikes them most, the applause determining the decision. Gradually the jury became narrowed down in numbers until it finally appears as we see it today.-New York

When Pins Were New.

A curious fact in the early history of pins is that when they were first sold in "open shop" there was such a great demand for them that a code was passed permitting their sale only on two days in the year—the 1st and 2d of January. Superfluous Women "Conspicuous by Their Absence" in Many Cities of England.

According to the estimates of the censu statisticians the surperfluous women for whom the delegates to the national conference of women workers at Southsea tried to plan a happy future numbered 1,244,558 at the middle of the present year.

The problem of the superfluous woman by no means troubles every town. In Devonport, for instance, there are 881 women for every 1,000 men, in Barrow-in-Furness 828, and in Rhondda only 825, while the feminine element is in a minority in other important centers of industry-the city of London, Southwark, Woolwich. Poplar, Stepney, West Bromwich, St. Helen's, etc.

The superfluous woman makes her home in pleasanter places-in health due in this settlement. I'll jest wait resorts on the south coast, in Bath, the city of fashion, and in the royal borough of Kensington, where there are 1,557 women to every 1,000 men. In Bournemouth the disparity between the sexes is even greater, the women numbering 1,709 to each 1,000 nen.-London Daily Mail.

The Baby Kangaroo.

One of the rarest and most uncanny zoo babies is the kangaroo. It takes a most observant and careful keeper to discover that there is one at all, for it is microscopic when born, being only one inch from the nose to the extreme tip of its little tail. In appearance it resembles an earthworm, and it is four or five months before it is seen of men. -London l'aper.

Begged John's Pardon.

At the Old Bailey it was customary to sentence the whole of the prisoners found guilty at the sessions at one time. It fell to Baron Graham's lot to perform this duty, and he accordingly went over the list with due solemnity, but omitted one person brought up for sentence, Mr. John Jones. The judge was on the point of finishing the sentences when the officer reminded his lordship of the omission, whereupon the judge said gravely, "Oh, I'm sure I beg John Jones' pardon," and then sentenced him to transportation for life.-London Mail.

Mild Laxative

The child of today is the parent of the future, and whether it grows up healthy and strong, or puny and weak, depends upon the intelligence of its parents, for most children are born into the world healthy, but thousands become future weaklings between birth and the age of ten, when the parents are still in greatest control.

The prime cause of trouble is in the stomach. A baby that is digesting its food seldom cries and always looks cheerful; the little child whose stomach is good romps and plays and never whines; the growing child learns well at school and is eager for fun if its head is clear and its stomach light, and that means if it has no constipation.

The prime cause of trouble is in the stomach. A baby that is digesting its food seldom cries and always looks cheerful; the little child whose stomach is good romps and plays and never whines; the growing child learns well at school and is eager for fun if its head is clear and its stomach light, and that means if it has no constipation.

The best and safest way to cure any irregularity of the stomach and bowels in children is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a liquid laxative wonderful in its effect as Mrs. John W. Dunham, Apple Creek, O., Mrs. H. L. Cullam, Plainville, Ind., and numerous others can testify who give it to their children with extraordinary results.

A bottle only costs 50 cents or $1 according to the size you want, and even one 50-cent bottle will do a wonderful amount of good in a family. It can be given to any member of the family in constipation, sour stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, dyspepsia, heartburn, sick headache and similar digestive troubles. It never gripes or strangles like pills, tablets, salts and powders, which should not be given to children, women or old folks.

If you have a child cr other member of the family who needs, but has never used.

A decree granting Mrs Henry Youtsey an absolute divorce from her husband, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of William Goebel, was entered in the Circuit Court at Frankfort Friday.
